PROGRAM NOTE

Adventure Awaits captures the excitement felt at the start of something new! The composer writes, “In composing this piece, I found myself imagining the many stories of long journeys told in books, television, movies, and beyond – some fantastical, and some reality based. In addition to drawing on these sources of inspiration, I hope performers and audience members alike draw on their own adventurous experiences, recalling those positive feelings at the beginning of exciting personal journeys!”

NOTES TO CONDUCTOR

This concert opener was written with the developing string musician in the forefront of my mind, with careful attention to bowing and hand position, rhythmic challenge, and appropriate use of musical independence. A largely consistent rhythmic presence throughout can be helpful in ensuring ensemble vertical alignment.

Key to a successful performance is the interpretation of stylistic elements, including accented notes, which are intended to be emphasized more than those notes around them. From a balance perspective, it is key that ostinato figures, when present, do not overpower the melody! Additionally, be sure to encourage performers to pay special attention to the lengths of notes followed by rests, ensuring that these notes are played for their full rhythmic durations!

Finally, I encourage you to take full advantage of the dynamic contrasts, particularly any sudden dynamic contrasts, written into the music.

I wish you and your ensemble a successful performance!
